a note from the director

Lucas Hnath’s Red Speedo is a wild and bold ride. It’s a story of five people who all want the same thing — a fair share of success, but they can’t seem to get it. We all do things that are sorta good and sorta not so good, "Hnath writes, "We all want to feel like winners. But what happens when we feel like everyone is getting ahead except us?"

What happens when your hard work isn’t enough? What happens when we lose sight of our accomplishments? We all have our moments of success and our moments of failure. We all have our moments of glory and our moments of despair. But we keep going. We keep trying. We keep fighting. We keep striving. We keep believing. We keep hoping.

What happens when we feel like everyone is getting ahead except us? What happens when we feel like we’re not good enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not smart enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not fast enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not beautiful enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not rich enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not healthy enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not happy enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not lucky enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not lucky enough?

What happens when we feel like we’re not good enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not smart enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not fast enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not beautiful enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not rich enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not healthy enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not happy enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not lucky enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not lucky enough?

What happens when we feel like we’re not good enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not smart enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not fast enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not beautiful enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not rich enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not healthy enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not happy enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not lucky enough? What happens when we feel like we’re not lucky enough?
